Mother was in hearty agreement: "You are right. I forgot all about the promised Abhishekam. This is a re-minder". She gave a coin to the beggar, who promised to send down a snake-charmer as she went. Presently an old man appeared at the gate and announced himself as a snake-charmer.

The people gathered around him. He spoke to them of his life and activities and his power over snakes. They asked admiringly: 'How do you catch them?' 'Thus', he said, pouncing upon a hypothetical snake on the ground. They pointed the direction in which the cobra had gone and asked him to go ahead.

The snake charmer looked helplessly about and said: 'If you show me the snake, I'll at once catch it. Otherwise what can I do? The moment you see it again, send for me. I live nearby'. He gave his name and address and departed.
